Rocky II – A KNOCKOUT

Brian Joy, Karl Kamada and Ron Prescott shared decades of experience with the architects, engineers and contractors at a seminar held at Pearl Country Club on March 27, 2015. Each of the speakers talked about their experiences in the field of rock manufacturing, rock construction and the history of masonry structures. This seminar was approved for CEU credits through the AIA Honolulu Chapter.

MIH hosted a mini table top trade show with members of the Mason Contractors Association of Hawaii. The participants were: Aloha Marketing, Ameron Hawaii, CanDo Construction Supplies, Bonded Materials and OK Hardware and Supplies. In the future, MIH will continue to bring the hardware and supply vendors to the seminars in order to provide the most current information and availability of supplies and hardware.

MIH continues to keep the registration fee to a minimum due to successful fund raising events held throughout the year. A minimum fee is charged only as a holding fee to encourage those who signed up to attend.

CHRYSLER RETURNS

The Masonry Institute of Hawaii sponsored another well attended seminar on April 29, 2015 at Pearl Country Club. Mr. John Chrysler, Executive Director, Masonry Institute of American presented an encore performance of a recently held seminar in California titled "Masonry Materials". John provided an overview of CMU, mortar, grout and the 2016 code changes.

The proposed new edition of TMS 402/602 will be out for public comment on December 1, 2015 thru January 15, 2016. Mortar and grout mixes are either by proportions or by property specifications, not both. He also reviewed the collection of test samples and testing of mortar and grout samples. John was sent several examples of specifications that were not clear or were in conflict with the current building codes. He ended the seminar by responding to these example specifications. For a copy of the "Masonry Materials" seminar notes, please contact Rod Haraga @ rharaga.mih@gmail.com.

Another Table Top Trade Show was represented by: Aloha Marketing LLC, Bonded Materials Company, Big Rock Manufacturing, OK Hardware and Tileco, Inc.

The AIA-Honolulu Chapter's administration has approved this class for CEU credits. Handouts will enable attendees to register for credits via self-certification.

Please call Rod Haraga @ 782-8661 or e-mail at rharaga.mih@gmail.com to register for the class.

Note: Registration fee includes a continental breakfast and lunch.
